A case for experimentation: Airports' capacity by 2036

It is projected that the demand for the air travel will be doubled by the year 2036.

Experimentation in zero-risk environment

The recipe

Start with the most convenient experience

Take the process and remove all the non-essential steps of the experience

Set scalable KPIs and find a single touchpoint where you can validate it Experimentation should help you build your business case. Once you set the KPIs, look for a single touchpoint that relatively low risk, minimum distributed ownership.

Give ownership

You need to win both the employees and the customers' heart.

"The app is easy to use, fast and reliable. Would like to use it in the future, especially if it is integrated to our systems."

- Tiia, Check-in agent

A successful experimentation is the one that solves uncertainties.
